

Korea Anti-Doping Agency Announces Final Testing Number for 2009

The Korea Anti-Doping Agency (KADA) administered a total number of 3,353 doping control tests in 2009, KADA President Joong-Gon Kim announced. Of those tests, 2,807 doping control tests were conducted on Korean Athletes under the Korea Anti-Doping Program. An additional 546 user-pay tests were conducted on behalf of national and international sports organizations.

Out-of-Competition(OOC) testing, widely considered to be the most effective method of deterrence, comprised 60% (1,693) of KADA's 2009 domestic tests. OOC testing typically occurs at the athlete's training facility or other location and is performed with no advance notice to the athlete. These 1,693 were primarily targeted at athletes in the KADA registered testing pool and who participated in 2010 Vancouver Winter Olympic and Paralympic Games.

The 1,114 In-Competition(IC) tests accounted for the remaining 40% of KADA's 2009 domestic testing numbers.

Pay user service testing was conducted on behalf of various national and international sports organizations, which amounted to 546 tests during this year. At International Events held in Korea over this year, the KADA conducted 316 tests. 114 user pay IC tests and 116 user pay OOC tests were also carried out on behalf of International Federations, National Federations and Association of National Anti-Doping Organizations.

17 anti-doping rule violations were reported during this year. 10 bodybuilders, 1 football player, and 1 para-soccer player received a two-year sanction for the presence of anabolic agents in a sample. A bodybuilder was given a two-year ineligibility for refusal to give sample. 2 kungdo players were received a 3-month sanction for the presence of diuretics. A modern pentathlon player was given 3 months sanction and a squash player reprimanded, and both were for stimulants.

The KADA is an independent, operating as the central anti-doping organization in charge of carrying out test and result management as well as developing education program.
